Hog Barns

Shown here are 8 Arch™ buildings, each 30' wide and 60' long. The buildings are on a five foot wall which rises to six to seven feet at the front to take away from the slope of the concrete. The buildings are open at the front and closed at the back with air holes. Each air hole is covered with galebreaker – a semi-permeable fabric. This set-up allows for adequate ventilation and temperature control for the area. The buildings are used to house hogs for finishing.
